This is the single most important guide to providing yourself with or ensuring that you get your training in or your next business. This book is not any ordinary book of its kind, rather it will give you an insight into how to create a compelling training program like no other. Being able to provide this for yourself, whether with traditional models or new ones, means that you are in control of what happens with your experience in the world which will be based on what you have decided for yourself. If you are not sure of what to do with this book, then you are in the right place. This book is about how to effectively create a training program that will bring massive success for yourself or your business. You will get into all the aspects of what I learned in my course and the research I have done over the last twenty years in creating programs and training, so it's likely that you will benefit from this in one way or another. This is a system that will provide you with all the information and tools necessary to effectively start your training and development in just about any industry. I will show you how to create a training and development program that is not only effective but also highly engaging and highly valued by the people who take part in it and you and your colleagues. This book will show you:

1)Where your training has been lacking so far 2) What steps to take right now for success in the future 3) How to give yourself the most valuable training possible as both as an individual as well as as a business.

You obviously know about the importance of this if you picked up this book, but what you likely don't know is how to structure this knowledge into something worthwhile and beneficial for yourself. If you want to be the best at what you do, then this is the time to find out. This book is a collection of all the knowledge I have gathered from years of working with people and being responsible for mentoring them from their very first steps until they have become world-class in their field of interest. This book will teach you how to effectively create a training system that will benefit a range of different industries and people. Some readers may be more interested in the business side of things, while others may want to get into the training themselves. With that in mind, I have created this book with groups of people in mind; you can find out more about it here. The book is structured after the course I designed, which will work on the principle of giving you what you need to know and giving you ample opportunity to learn new information on your own time (or whatever you need/want it to be).

This course was designed for aspiring entrepreneurs looking for a foundation on how to create their own businesses. Most people go into entrepreneurship completely blind. And this is understandable because few people realize just how much work it is.
